Statement on the Federal Government Shutdown

This statement on the shutdown of the federal government may be attributed to James Edwards, Executive Director, Conservatives for Property Rights:

“The Democrats own the government shutdown. They would rather try to hurt President Trump than keep the government open. They’re demanding that extremist, exorbitant liberal policies be included in the continuing resolution, a short-term spending bill at present budget levels, as the price for keeping the government open. They’re hurting the American people, federal workers, small businesses, veterans and others, and it’s outrageous!

“The fact is that the House-passed clean CR is the same one Democrats voted for 6 months ago and have done so repeatedly in recent years! Republicans in Congress and the White House have acted responsibly. The Democrats should do the same—pass the clean CR, then negotiate policies absent the hostage-taking drama.”
